Meet Florinda (Flora) Can Queché at GET JAZZED on Microcredit Fundraiser, November 6, 2010

FLORA CAN QUECHÉ has never let hardship or obstacles stand in her way. One of four daughters born to an impoverished family in Panajachel, Sololá, Flora began weaving and making tortillas by the age of seven. Her father was one of the few indigenous persons not to sell his land to wealthy landowners from Guatemala City. So Flora grew up in extreme poverty surrounded by lavish chalets. Although her parents were frequently ridiculed for only having girls, they taught their daughters to persevere and follow their dreams.

By the age of nine, Flora wanted to help her family more so she started making her own handicrafts, primarily jewelry using her own designs. Selling in the nearby towns of Sololá and Santa Catarina, she kept only enough money to replenish her craft supplies and buy a few pieces of candy. The rest of her profits went to her family.

Like many indigenous, Mayan women, Flora attended school for only six years, married young and had her first child by the age of 14. She managed a small storefront on the lakeshore, and despite raising children and fighting poverty, she managed to employ two other women. She had three children before she then became involved in a family planning program. She did not want her children to experience extreme poverty like she did. "All Mayan women dream that their children have to be better off than they are," Flora said.

Flora found that relocating her business during slow times allowed for consistent cash flow. Traveling more than 24 hours through treacherous conditions to the border near Mexico, she sold to indigenous communities that received remittances from relatives in the United States. Her business was stable. Then, at the age of 32, she learned about Friendship Bridge. She joined a Trust Bank with local women and took out her first loan of $200. Flora would go on to become a Friendship Bridge borrower for seven years, while emerging as a leader and serving as the president of her Trust Bank.

She was then invited by Friendship Bridge to participate in a pilot program to establish a store, La ComUnidad, for Friendship Bridge clients to market their goods. Despite many ups and downs, she stayed true to her commitment to help sell other Friendship Bridge clients' products. Today, her business, which has since been renamed to Comunidad K'em Ajachel (CKA), includes 64 members -- all women -- whose beautiful, traditional handcrafted products represent four unique regions of Guatemala: Sololá, Nebaj, Chimaltenango, and Quiché. Flora continues to improve and expand opportunities for women in Guatemala particularly as she explores new markets: a strategy that she knows is essential to her success and the success of her members.

"All Mayan women have a special talent, and that is why I love giving them an opportunity for success," Flora said. "As a Mayan woman, achieving success is very hard. It is only possible if you have hope."

November Networking Luncheon

Join us for another great Networking Luncheon at Fogo de Chao located on the corner of 15th & Wynkoop in LoDo on Thursday, November 11, at 11:30 am. There is a paid parking lot next to the restaurant. New members or those wanting to learn more about the APW or our Committees may come at 11 am for a new member orientation.

We will enjoy this great South Brazilian restaurant newly opened in July, it is a treat, even if you don't eat meat. The meat is slow roasted over an open fire and served tableside. If you are vegan, we will not disappoint you; there is an impressive salad bar with 30 items to choose from, including smoked salmon, heats of palm, roasted peppers, tabbouleh, fresh made delicious dressings and much more.

Cost is $25 for members; $35 for non-members. Pre-registration required by 5 pm, Monday November 8, a $5 late fee applies thereafter.

Door Prizes! Continuing with our fall makeover theme, we have ...The Avatar® Power Package which includes two internationally best-selling books, Living Deliberately and ReSurfacing and How To Create Magic in Your Life audio CD, donated by new member ANNE MOORE; a book on stress-management from member author ANNE GOTTLIEB ANGERMAN; a haircut and color gift from Thompson & Company – Stylist MOLLY DOUGLAS; and ROBIN PEGLOW BERG of Soul Moxie will gift a 60-minute Breakthrough Session for your “internal” makeover.

December Holiday Networking Luncheon

Save The Date for our annual holiday Networking Luncheon being held once again at the historic Brown Palace Hotel on Thursday, December 9, 2010. We will gather in the beautiful Brown Palace Club, located in the main hotel for our festive gathering. Make your reservations early; this is one of our most favorite events of the year and usually fills up. A trip to the Brown will put you in the holiday spirit.

Registration opens at 11 am, lunch is served at noon, and our event will end by 1:00 pm. Come and enjoy a room full of dynamic women, a delicious meal, a special gift for all and fabulous door prizes drawings, including a Family/General Membership to the Denver Botanic Gardens and tickets to the DCPA.

The meal begins with Butternut Squash Bisque with Mascarpone and Sun Dried Cherries, En Croute. Next, select your entree from the following served with fresh seasonal vegetables, rolls, rice/potato au jour:

- Roasted Pork Loin Or
 - Sautéed Halibut with Moro Orange and Chervil Sauce Or
 - Potato Parmesan Gnocci
- For Desert: Chocolate Mousse Cup, Brown Palace Coffee and Tea

Cost for members is $45; non-member $55. Pre-registration is required by 5:00 pm Monday, December 6, 2010; a $5 late fee applies thereafter.

Do you 'Like' the APW? Are you LinkedIn?

The APW now provides even more ways for you to connect with members personally and professionally. Personally, we now have a Facebook Fan Page. Facebook is the largest social networking site in the world with the fastest growing demographic women between 25 and 56 years old. If you're not on Facebook already, chances are you will be by the end of the year. Connect with other fans of our page, post success stories and get updates on APW activities. Anyone can be a fan, just visit the page and click the 'Like' button.

Professionally, we also have a LinkedIn group for members only. LinkedIn is like your personal Rolodex—one that's connected to everyone you know, and can link you to everyone they know. Join the APW group to post messages to other members, make networking connections, learn about new opportunities and more. Just visit the APW LinkedIn Group and request to join. Membership in the APW LinkedIn group requires an APW membership so you know you're networking with other members.

Connect personally and professionally with APW online!

The 10 Fundamental of a Successful Website

Our latest (BAH) Success Series presenter, SHERE CHAMNESS Owner of REALART and the Webmaster of our APW website provided loads of useful information to those that attended our last event of the year, October 18 at The Women's College of the University of Denver.

Shere opened by asking the group the following question "What brings in more revenue, the Electronic Game Industry, or the Movie Business?" Surprisingly, it was the Electronic Game Industry and her point is, our websites need to engage people, she indicated a website is not a brochure and people are not likely to read all the hype that many people put on their sites. Rather we need to provide some interaction, with options like the ability to change color, encouraging links, allowing comments, allowing people to sign up for our newsletters, tell a friend links, allowing customers to send in photos or video's, allow visitors to play games, to name a few. We learned the importance of using juicy (key) phrases on our websites so that the search engines will have something to hook onto. Shere indicated the people who grasp this and incorporate these things, are making a lot of money.

Shere provided expanded information on the fundamentals of a successful website she refers to as SOULSMARTS.

- S subject matter that people are looking for
- O often updated content
- U user friendly and accessible to all
- L links in and out
- S sound markup structure, semantic tags
- M marketing strategy
- A ask visitors to participate
- R relevance to world opinion and public trends
- T tell visitors what to do next
- S site map for search engines

EXTRA - Visit www.apwcolorado.com to see our new offerings.

Shere provided hand outs that explain how to create secure and easy-to-remember passwords and how and why it's important to customize your own profile on the APW site. Shere has built a system that rotates the Corporate and Networking Connection members' business cards, so that they rotate appearing on the home page of our website. Shere is also developing a "write a testimonial" section for the APW website. Do you know there is a way to search for products and services by "PROFFESIONAL CATEGORY" on our APW website? There is, find it under the Members-Only section and as Shere points out it is a great way to patronize you fellow APW member!

We welcome LINDA MERIC, National Director of 9to5, National Association of Working Women, as our speaker for the November meeting. Linda will brief us on efforts by the Workplace Fairness Coalition to add remedies to the Colorado Anti-Discrimination Act that would give victims of workplace discrimination that work for small employers the same remedies for that discrimination as those available to employees of larger employers who are covered by Title VII, the federal law. Since federal law only applies to larger employers of 15 employees or more, employee advocates are concerned that employees of small Colorado employers can currently only recover back pay, but not compensatory damage, punitive damages, legal fees or court costs if they are subjected to discrimination in the workplace. Small employers have opposed these changes, saying that these changes would be cost prohibitive for them. Please join us for a lively conversation and enjoy a great Zaidy's breakfast! We buy our own breakfast and chip in to cover the guest speaker's breakfast.

PEGGY ROOS—Sales Professional, Geiger, 303-646-2656, proos@geiger.com

- Why did you join the Alliance of Professional Women?
I recently attended a Networking Luncheon as a guest of EDITH SAMOUILLET and felt that joining the APW would be a great networking opportunity. I found everyone to be very welcoming.
- What are your hobbies? I have horses and love to ride, work in my garden and yard, and just being outside in the beautiful Colorado Sunshine.
- What is your position/business? I am an Independent sales partner for Geiger. We help our customers with all of their brand recognition needs with promotional products, embroidered wearables, screen printed wearables, promotional products, awards, etc. We help employers recognize their employees, volunteers, best customers, and prospective customers. We can pretty much put your logo anywhere!
- What is something that few people know about you?
Good question, I am pretty much an open book.

New Member Profiles

STEPH BRUNO—Wealth Advisor, StephForSuccess, 303-242-1121, sbruno@cascade-inc.com

- Why did you join the Alliance of Professional Women?
Some great businesswomen that I know and respect (SHARI LUTZ and PAMELA SCHARF) are members and recommended the organization. I have a wealth management practice focused on helping successful women thrive financially and am always inspired by other successful women.
- What are your hobbies? I hike, bike, run, ski, climb, and write.
- What is your position/business? My clients come to me to establish money management plans based on trust, protection, confidence, and vision.

In addition to a degree in Finance, I also have a degree in English and Creative Writing.

CATHERINE TIDD—Owner, the Widdahood.com, 720-480-5042, catherine@thewiddahood.com

- Why did you join the Alliance of Professional Women?
I joined the APW because in starting my new business, I was using all of my sister's (KRISTI SULLIVAN) wonderful contacts from this organization! From web design (SHERE CHAMNESS) to legal help (COLLEEN BELAK), I feel like I am on the right track to success. I've also been fortunate enough to be Kristi's guest to a few events over the years and have always enjoyed myself. Now I can't wait to participate as a member!
- What are your hobbies? My hobbies include: walking/going to the gym, reading, writing, and enjoying time with my children.
- What is your position/business? I am the founder of theWiddahood.com, the first free social support website dedicated to anyone who has suffered the loss of a significant other.
- What is something that few people know about you?
This is a hard question because my sister is in this group and I think she knows everything about me!

Thanks!

Wow, what a great Networking Luncheon we had at Brasserie-Felix last month. The food was simply delicious and the service great! The Alliance Foundation, our luncheon sponsor provided information on the upcoming fundraiser to benefit women in Guatemala that inspired all to help (see the article below). Thank you to all who attended and to RUTH GARCIA who planned the luncheon but was not able to be present. We also thank DANA LYNCH for a nice job of hosting our luncheon in Ruth's absence, nice job ladies. Lastly, we thank our make-over door prize donors, LEE WEISBARD for a teeth whitening system, a 1.5 hour closet consultation from DANA LYNCH; a facial and color cosmetic consultation from PAULINE HUDDLESON; and a haircut and color from Timothy D's. We also thank JOHANNA KELLY for The Denver Botanic Gardens donation given at the luncheon as well.

Women at October Networking Lunch Raise $751 for Women in Guatemala

The power and generosity of women in our community was never more evident than at the October Networking Luncheon sponsored by the Alliance Foundation. After learning about the huge impact the Alliance Foundation's scholarship and village bank programs have on women in our community and around the world each woman at the lunch was asked to help support our Village Bank program by donating the equivalent of one or two lattes at the lunch. These thoughtful, committed women took the challenge of changing the world and raised $751 at the lunch (that's a lot of latte!). This means that seven women in Guatemala will receive a small business loan to help them start or expand a business. On behalf of women in Guatemala the Alliance Foundation Board of Directors sincerely thanks each one of you for donation and commitment to changing the world!

If you are unable to attend the Get Jazzed on Microcredit Fundraiser on November 6, please consider making a donation to the event by going to www.givingfirst.org and entering in the Alliance Foundation under the charity name. The Foundation will receive 100% of your donation as credit card fees are covered through the generosity of GivingFirst.

Relocation Coordinators Seeks Qualified Vendors

Relocation Coordinators, a newly forming company led by two APW members, CHRISTY BEGIEN and JILL MADISON will be working with high net-worth individuals and families who are relocating into/out of/within Colorado. Relocation Coordinators will offer complete project management in the relocation process and will also provide referrals to qualified vendors such as: interior design, flooring, carpenters, painters, electricians, pet walkers, house cleaners, chimney sweeps, movers, storage (wine, furs, household) and any other vendors needed in the relocation and remodel process.

Towards that end, Relocation Coordinators is now building its list of preferred vendors and is reaching out to you, APW members, for recommendations. So if you know anyone from home remodeling to personal care to auto mechanics who you have used and had a good experience with, we would like to meet them too. Of course, please submit your name, too, if you feel yours is in an appropriate category. Please email their names, area of expertise, firm name, email and phone number to either CHRISTY BEGIEN at cbegien@mac.com or JILL MADISON at jillmad7@pacbell.net so we can put them on our contact list.

Informational meetings will be held in November/December. We look forward to hosting a monthly networking luncheon in early 2011 where we will discuss Relocation Coordinators in more detail. Until then, send us your vendor referrals.

A Letter from Warren Village

October 4, 2010

The Alliance of Professional Women

PO Box 480384
Denver, Co 80248-0384

Dear Friends,

Thank you so much for hosting a Family Night on September 14th. The staff and residents were very grateful for the evening and they enjoyed themselves immensely!

Your volunteer work sustains and supports the work of Warren Village staff members. You help to enrich our programming because your volunteer time allows staff to focus on the needs of the families. We could not do our job without dedicated volunteers like you!

We are deeply appreciative and hope your time spent here was rewarding. At Warren Village we aim to provide a memorable and fulfilling volunteer experience. Please let us know how we are doing.

Sincerely,

Sarah Flint
